

CANADIAN COMMERCIAL CORPORATION

Annual Report to Parliament on the Administration of the Access to Information Act

April 1, 2017 – March 31, 2018

1. Introduction

The purpose of the Access to Information Act (the “Act”) is to provide individuals and corporations present in Canada with a right of access to records under the control of federal government institutions. The principles encompassed by the Act are that government information should be available to the public, necessary exceptions to the right of access should be limited and specific, and that decisions on the disclosure of government information should be reviewed independently of government.

The Act also specifies that it is intended to complement existing procedures for obtaining government information and is not to limit in any way the type of information that is normally available to the public, thereby denoting the importance of informal access.

This report is prepared and tabled in Parliament in accordance with section 72 of the Access to Information Act.

The Canadian Commercial Corporation (CCC), a Crown corporation listed in Schedule III, Part I of the Financial Administration Act, reports to Parliament through the Minister of International Trade. CCC has a mandate to facilitate international trade and acts as Canada’s international contracting and procurement agency.

The Corporation’s primary service involves the establishment of government-to-government contracts with foreign government buyers to provide goods and services available for export from Canada. CCC then enters into contracts with Canadian exporters to fulfill the requirements of these government-to-government contracts. The procurement and contracting services provided for the benefit of Canadian exporters allows them to access markets where risk, transparency and competitiveness require a government-to-government arrangement.

While CCC is actively engaged in the aerospace, defence, security and infrastructure sectors, it also supports emerging and developing markets such as clean tech and communication technology where foreign governments may require additional capacity to undertake complex and timely projects. CCC can operate either as prime contractor selling to governments, or as a procurement agent sourcing Canadian goods and services on behalf of governments in other countries. The Corporation also procures goods and services on behalf of other federal government institutions to assist the Government of Canada fulfill its in-kind aid contributions worldwide.

2. Organizational Structure

The Access to Information Act is administered by the Corporation's Legal Services division. Legal Services is responsible for responding to all requests submitted to CCC under the Act, developing internal policies and procedures, providing training and awareness to all staff, and ensuring compliance with the Act, its regulations and related policy instruments.

The role of CCC's ATIP Coordinator is assigned to the Vice President of Legal Services who is a member of the Corporation's executive committee and reports directly to the President. Legal Services has one full time law clerk dedicated to carrying out all access to information and privacy activities, including processing requests. The position is supported by other legal counsel and an administrative assistant as needed. During the 2017-2018 reporting period, CCC also hired an ATIP consultant for seven months to process voluminous and overdue requests.

3. Delegation Order

For the purposes of section 3 of the Access to Information Act, the President of CCC is the head of the institution.

Pursuant to section 73 of the Act, the President's authority has been delegated to enable the Corporation to meet its legislated requirements. The President has delegated all of his powers, duties and functions under the Act to the Vice-President Legal Services, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary, who is also the ATIP Coordinator.

A copy of the Delegation Order, dated April 20, 2015, is attached as Annex A.

4. Highlights of the Statistical Report, 2017-2018

During this reporting period, CCC processed a total of thirteen requests for information under the Access to Information Act. Of these requests, ten were formal requests received by CCC and three were consultations received from other government institutions. In addition, CCC also processed four informal requests for information.

A copy of the Statistical Report on the Access to Information Act that was submitted to the Treasury Board of Canada, is attached as Annex B.

Formal Requests

After receiving a higher number than normal of requests in the two previous reporting periods, CCC received nine new formal requests during 2017-2018 and also processed an additional five requests that were carried over from 2016-2017. Of these, ten requests were closed and four were carried forward to the next reporting period.

Of the ten formal requests that CCC closed during 2017-2018, extensions of the statutory due date to respond to them was taken on eight of them. Most of the extensions were the result of consultations required with other government institutions and third parties.

Although CCC closed a significantly lower number of formal requests in 2017-2018 than in the previous reporting period, the total number of pages that were processed in relation to those closed requests was significantly higher. CCC processed a total of 10,882 pages, compared to 2,426 pages reported in 2016-2017.

CCC had five deemed refusal requests during the 2017-2018 reporting period, however, all these have been closed. The primary reason for not meeting the statutory deadlines on these five requests, was the workload and external consultations associated with them.

Due to the nature of CCC's activities involving contractual negotiations between foreign governments and Canadian exporters, CCC frequently applies exemptions under section 15 and section 20 of the Act in order to protect international affairs and the commercial interests of third parties.

Consultation Requests

CCC received one new consultation request from another government organization. It also processed two additional consultation requests carried forward from the previous reporting period. All three consultations were closed during the 2017-2018 reporting period.

5. Training

During this reporting period, CCC provided mandatory ATIP training for all management. The training was provided with respect to updates to CCC's ATIP processing procedures and on how to identify information that may be exempted under the Act. There were 22 employees that participated in the training. CCC also offers informal training throughout the year as needed.

6. Policy, Guidelines and Procedures

During this reporting period, CCC implemented a new procedure for processing requests under the Access to Information Act. This procedure is intended to complement its Access to Information Policy that was approved in the previous reporting period.

7. Complaints and Investigations

During this reporting period, CCC received five new complaints which were submitted to the Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC) and three complaints were closed. Two of the closed complaints were investigated with one deemed not well-founded and the other deemed well-founded. The third complaint that was closed, was one received during the 2014-2015 reporting period and was discontinued.

CCC still has ten complaints remaining to be resolved with the Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC) that have been carried forward to the 2018-2019 reporting period.

8. Time Monitoring to Process Requests

CCC ATIP employees monitor and track the time taken to process access to information requests in an excel database and report their findings in the annual Statistical Report to TBS.
